

2/6/2009

Crimestoppers Tip Lead to Arrest at Southern University

New Orleans, LA –This evening, members of the New Orleans Police Department arrested 46-year-old Derek Kendrick of New Orleans, in connection with the burglary that occurred on February 2, 2009, shortly before 4:00 P.M., at Southern University at New Orleans, located at 6400 Press Drive.

According to investigators, two (2) suspects entered the Science building of the campus and stole a 50” flat screen Panasonic monitor. The building was equipped with a security surveillance system that captured the suspects removing the property from the location.

As a result of the ongoing investigation, and outstanding citizen involvement, Third District Detective Michael Sam identified Derek Kendrick as one of the persons responsible for the burglary. Kendrick was booked accordingly at Central Lock-Up. Detectives are in the process of gathering information to identify the second suspect in this offense.

Arrested: Derek Kendrick

Arrested For: (1) count, simple burglary of a business
(1) count, criminal damage to property

