NEW ORLEANS – New Orleans police have arrested a suspect in connection with the murder of a man last month, officials said.

James Jones, 41, was shot and killed on Aug. 19 in the 300 block of North Robertson Street.

U.S. Marshals arrested Alvin Tuckson, 41, on Thursday in Philadelphia and charged him with second-degree murder, said NOPD spokeswoman Officer Shereese Harper.

Harper said a Crimestoppers tip led to the arrest. Tuckson had been one of four wanted suspects placed on the Crimestoppers Most Wanted Billboard in 2008.
