The New Orleans Police Department-Public Information Office Officers Are Asking Your Help in Finding A 15-Year-Old Teenager

Officers are asking the public's help in finding 15-year old Haylee Fleming, who was last seen August 11, 2011 at 10pm after an argument inside of her mother's Leonidas Neighborhood home in the 2300 block of Joliet Street. Her mother reported her missing the following morning when she woke up and went into her daughter's room and discovered her gone. She says it's not the first time she has gone missing.

Fleming is a Caucasian female with shoulder length purple and black hair, 5'8" tall, weighing 170 pounds. She was last seen wearing blue jeans and a black tank top.

Anyone seeing Haylee or knowing his whereabouts is urged to contact the New Orleans Police Department at 821-2222.

The New Orleans Police Department, under the leadership of Superintendent Ronal W. Serpas, is engaged in a complete transformation in its approach to ensuring that New Orleans is a safer place to live, work and visit. The police force, which currently employs dedicated men and women, is committed to transparency, accountability, collaboration and integrity.
