NEW ORLEANS -- Crimestoppers is aiming to get more than 40 fugitives off the street starting this weekend.

Each faces various charges in Orleans and Jefferson parishes, and Crimestoppers is making it even easier for tipsters to get reward money.

"We're going to be providing the first $1,000 cash reward for arrest-only, and that's because we want this to happen quickly -- we want these people picked up. That additional money will be paid out upon indictment," Crimestoppers' Darlene Cusanza said.

"The only way we going to solve the problem in the neighborhood is if people tell us who is doing the bad stuff, and the bad part about it is they know who is doing it," Jefferson Parish Sheriff Harry Lee said. Crimestoppers has four billboards set up across Orleans and Jefferson parishes, and, so far, four men pictured have been arrested.

Lee is paying for two more billboards on the West Bank.

If you have information on the shooting, call Crimestoppers at 504-822-1111. You don't have to give your name or testify at a trial, and you could receive a cash reward.
